

And We All Had a Ball

© Bartt Warburton
Get more Bartt's Charts at Bartt.net

(intro)

(intro)

I've been searching for a little darling

Someone I can call my own

And when I find that sentimental sweetheart,

we will both have a ball

We will build a lovely little garden

Find a little place that we'll call home

And when the moon comes sailing through the evening sky,

we'll all have a ball

She will make me feel like Maurice Chevalier

C'est la vie, c'est la vie! Oh, ho, ho, You and Me?

I will bring my little ukulele

And sing to her of daffodils and love

And if the rain comes falling from the sky,

I know we'll all have a ball

(instrumental)

(instrumental)

I've been searching for a little darling

Someone I can call my own

And when I find that sentimental sweetheart,

we will both have a ball

And when I find that sentimental sweetheart,

we will all have a ball

© Bartt Warburton
Get more Bartt's Charts at Bartt.net