

Beans Are a Cowboy's Lullaby

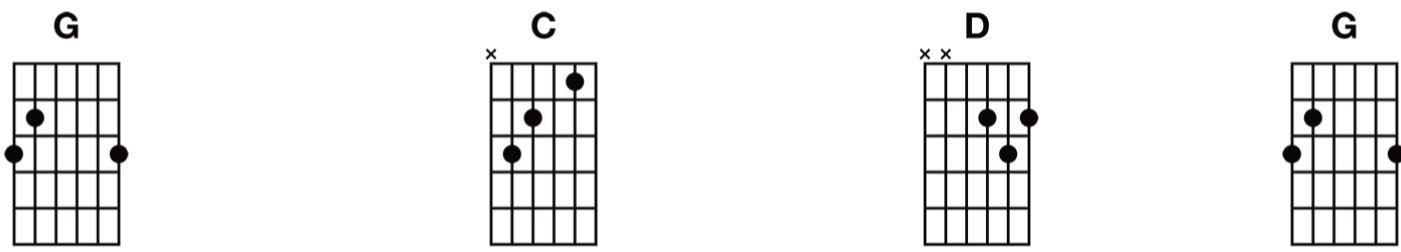

© Bartt Warburton
Get more Bartt's Charts at Bartt.net

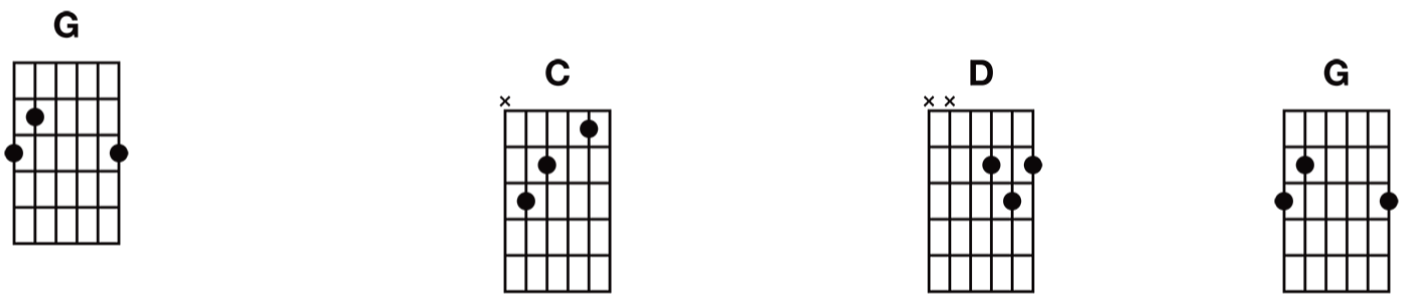

Beans are a cowboy's lullaby; It's been that way right from the start

A cowboy eats his beans before he hits the hay, and when he does, they always make him start to singing:

"Beans, oh beans, oh beans, oh beans, I love them so, I hold them very dear to my heart.

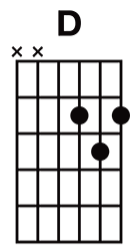

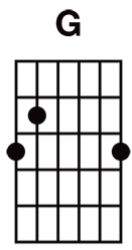

They make me sing, they always leave me all aglow, and while I'm glowing, I begin to sing this song:

(instrumental)

(instrumental)

"Beans, oh beans, oh beans, oh beans, I love them so, I hold them very dear to my heart.

They make me sing, they always leave me all aglow, I love the way they always make me sing!